NATURE AND STAGE OF THE PROCEEDINGS

This motion relates to two complaints filed in September 2007: the Verified Shareholder's Class and Derivative Complaint filed by Donald Benoit and the Shareholders' Class and Derivative Complaint filed by Lemon Bay Partners and Malcolm Rosenwald. These complaints assert derivative claims on behalf of MBNA Corporation ("MBNA") and claims under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Exchange Act") on behalf of a putative class of MBNA shareholders. The claims in both complaints are based on events in 2004 and 2005.

On December 10, 2007, plaintiffs Donald Benoit, Lemon Bay Partners and Malcolm Rosenwald (collectively, the "Benoit Group") filed the instant motion to consolidate their two complaints, appoint the Benoit Group as Lead Plaintiffs, and approve the designation of Robbins Umeda & Fink, LLP and Paskowitz & Associates as Co-Lead Counsel. Defendants MBNA, Bank of America Corporation, Bruce Hammonds, Kenneth Vecchione, Richard Struthers, John Cochran, III, Lance Weaver, Charles Krulak, Michael Rhodes, John Scheflen, Randolph Lerner and Kenneth Lewis oppose that motion and submit this answering brief.

SUMMARY OF ARGUMENT

The complaints that are the subject of this motion are not the only actions before this Court that seek to assert derivative claims on behalf of MBNA, as well as federal securities-law claims under the Exchange Act on behalf of a putative class of MBNA stockholders, based on events in 2004 and 2005. On November 21, 2005, these same plaintiffs represented by the same lawyers filed a different consolidated shareholder derivative complaint in this Court asserting essentially the same derivative claims on behalf of MBNA. In re MBNA Corporation Derivative and Class Litigation, No. 05-327 (GMS) (the “2005 Derivative Action”). Moreover, this Court has already appointed a different Lead Plaintiff represented by different Lead Counsel to pursue securities claims under the Exchange Act on behalf of a putative class of MBNA shareholders based on a different consolidated complaint filed on December 12, 2005. In re MBNA Corp. Securities Litigation, No. 05-272 (GMS) (the “2005 Securities Action”). Because the derivative and class action claims asserted in these actions overlap substantially with those asserted in the 2005 Derivative Action and the 2005 Securities Action, granting the instant motion will result in a needless multiplicity of lawsuits and waste of this Court’s resources.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

Although these two actions were filed only recently, the derivative and securities law claims asserted were first presented to this Court in separate actions filed more than two years ago.

2005 Derivative Action. These same plaintiffs (represented by the same plaintiffs lawyers) initiated a derivative action in 2005 asserting the same state-law claims for breach of fiduciary duty against the same defendants based on the same alleged wrongful acts in 2004 and 2005 that are at issue in the pending lawsuits. The consolidation order entered in 2005 Derivative Action on August 25, 2005 expressly applies to each “action arising out of the same or substantially the same transactions or events as these cases that is subsequently filed in, removed to or transferred to this Court.” (2005 Derivative Action D.I. 28.) On June 26, 2007, this Court dismissed the 2005 Derivative Action for lack of subject-matter jurisdiction. (2005 Derivative Action D.I. 75.) On July 11, 2007, plaintiffs filed a motion for reconsideration or reargument of that decision (2005 Derivative Action D.I. 76), which is fully briefed.

2005 Securities Action. Beginning in May 2005, numerous different plaintiffs brought class-action lawsuits alleging violations of the Exchange Act based on alleged misstatements and omissions by defendants in 2004 and 2005. On October 13, 2005, this Court appointed a Lead Plaintiff and designated Lead Counsel pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 78u-4(a)(3)(B) to pursue these federal securities law claims on behalf of a putative class of MBNA shareholders. (See Order Consolidating Actions and Appointing Lead Plaintiff and Lead Counsel, dated October 13, 2005 (attached hereto as Exhibit A).) That Lead Plaintiff filed a consolidated class-action complaint on December 12, 2005. The parties in the 2005 Securities Action are in the middle of discovery, with a fact discovery cutoff date of February 29, 2008.

On September 18, 2007, plaintiffs filed these two separate actions in this Court, creating a parallel and duplicative track of litigation. Rather than waiting for the Court to rule on their pending motion for reconsideration in the 2005 Derivative Action, plaintiffs brought “new” lawsuits asserting derivative claims identical to those asserted in the 2005 Derivative Action. The new complaints also allege violations of the Exchange Act claims similar to those alleged in the 2005 Securities Action. In fact, “[t]he full allegations of the Securities Class Action Complaint” are “incorporated . . . by reference” into the complaints in these actions. (See Benoit Complaint at p. 6 n.1; Lemon Bay Complaint at p. 7 n.1 (emphasis added).)

In addition, the putative class alleged in these new actions overlaps substantially with the putative class alleged in the 2005 Securities Action. The putative class in these actions consists of all MBNA shareholders whose MBNA shares were exchanged for Bank of America shares by reason of the Bank of America-MBNA merger, which closed on December 31, 2005. (Benoit Complaint ¶ 6; Lemon Bay Complaint ¶ 6.) The putative class in the 2005 Securities Action “consist[s] of all persons who purchased the publicly traded securities of MBNA between January 20, 2005 and April 20, 2005, inclusive.” (2005 Securities Action Complaint ¶ 23.) It is likely that a large percentage of MBNA shareholders who acquired their shares between January and April 2005 still held those shares at the end of 2005, exchanged those shares for Bank of America shares pursuant to the merger, and thus are members of both putative classes.

ARGUMENT

Plaintiffs’ motion to consolidate these actions and be appointed as Lead Plaintiffs should be denied or stayed for two reasons.

1. These complaints assert derivative claims that were already before this Court in the 2005 Derivative Action. Although the Court dismissed the 2005 Derivative Action on June 26, 2007 (2005 Derivative Action D.I. 75), plaintiffs elected to file a motion for reconsideration (2005 Derivative Action D.I. 76). That motion is fully briefed and still pending. Having moved for reconsideration, plaintiffs should have waited for a ruling on that motion before burdening the Court (and the defendants) by filing two new lawsuits asserting identical derivative claims. At the very least, plaintiffs' motion to consolidate these new complaints and be appointed Lead Plaintiffs should be stayed until the Court rules on plaintiffs' pending motion for reconsideration and the conclusion of any appeal that plaintiffs take from the dismissal of the 2005 Derivative Action.

2. This Court has already appointed a different Lead Plaintiff and different Lead Counsel to pursue claims under the Exchange Act on behalf of a putative class of MBNA shareholders. On October 13, 2005, this Court appointed Activest Investmentgesellschaft mbH as "Lead Plaintiff pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 78u-4(a)(3)(B)(ii)" to pursue alleged violations of the Exchange Act by MBNA and certain of its officers on behalf of a putative class of MBNA shareholders. (See Order Consolidating Actions and Appointing Lead Plaintiff and Lead Counsel, dated October 13, 2005.) In that same Order, this Court approved the appointment of different Lead Counsel pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 78u-4(a)(3)(B)(v). There is no reason to appoint a different lead plaintiff and different lawyers to assert related claims under the same sections of the Exchange Act on behalf of a slightly different putative class based on largely the same underlying events. To rule otherwise would be to permit improper claim splitting by these plaintiffs and the class they seek to represent and would result in a needless duplication of actions before this Court.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, plaintiffs' motion should be denied or at the very least stayed until the Court rules on plaintiffs' pending motion for reconsideration in the 2005 Derivative Action and the conclusion of any appeal in that other action.
